One Hand Carved Walnut Bed Room Suite at $75.00 worth $125, at A. Rieck & Son's.

Fifteen or twenty car load of ties are being shipped from the valley this week.

H. M. Collins informs us that he has bought 50,000 railroad ties at Arcadia since the first of September last.

Dr. Riggs has leased the Emerson home in south Ironton and will use the same as a home for aged Baptists.

Big Special February Sale at Brown's. Come and see our Big Bargains. "We can save you money." B. N. Brown, Ironton, Mo.

Ash Wednesday. The first day in lent. It is just fifty-seven years since lent began on so early a date as it does this year.

County court is in session this week attending to routine business. The road overseers will be named to-morrow or next day.

Duncan Robinson of Arcadia and Ed. Heider of Ironton have signed contracts to play ball with the Chillicothe, Ohio, team the coming season.

Mayor Robert Rasche contemplates building a new store house and residence on the site of his present store building some time in the early spring.

If the ground hog saw his shadow Sunday he had to get up early. There was a little sun for a few minutes early in the morning. The rest of the day was cloudy.

Bert Langdon is a grandpa. A baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Taylor, this (Wednesday) morning, February 5, 1913. Our very best wishes to all.

E. M. Logan of Bellevue and H. B. Jones of Pilot Knob are sojourning at the Hotel Pullman, Hot Springs. H. B. writes that he is feeling some better and will prolong his visit another week.

The following births are reported: Frank Kuhn and wife, a boy, January 29, Gilbert Vance and wife, a boy, February 1st, B. K. Taylor and wife, a boy, February 5th. To all, our hearty congratulations and best wishes.

It is said that a new time card will go into effect next Sunday. One report is that Train No. 23 will in future go down the Belmont branch and a local train will be run between Poplar Bluff and Bismarck. Nothing authentic, however.

The Synette Granite Company is leaving Graniteville and offers for sale all its possessions there. This means merchandise, machinery and houses. Everything. If you want anything in their line now is the time for bargains.

Dr. R. W. Gay informs us that the hub factory of the Clark-Gay Manufacturing Company, at Little Rock, Arkansas, which was destroyed by fire three weeks ago, will be rebuilt at once. Contracts have already been let for the construction of the buildings and the work will be rushed.

On next Monday, February 10th, we inaugurate our Big Mid-Winter Clearing Sale, which will continue for fifteen days only. Bargain prices will prevail in every department of our store—such bargains that the wise and economical cannot afford to miss.

LOPEZ STORE CO.

Dr. E. L. Barnhouse has been appointed to a position in the Missouri Department of Food and Drug Inspection. The salary attached to the position, which is that of an Inspector, is $1500 a year. Dr. Barnhouse has been succeeded in his position as a clerk in the Senate by R. E. Gunton.

Marcus Yount, who has been attending Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Missouri, since last fall, arrived home Monday. Two of the students in the institution died the past week with spinal meningitis, and it was deemed best to close the school to prevent the possibility of an epidemic.

The Ladies of the Woman's Home Mission, of the Fort Hill Methodist church, will give a reception at the Parsonage, on Tuesday, February 11, 1913, from 3 to 5 p. m. All the ladies of the church and congregation with their friends are invited. There will be a short programme and light refreshments.

While Mr. Robert Parmer was loading his wagon with corn from the Lopez Store Co.'s granary last Saturday evening, the team outside started away. The rear door from which he was loading is about five feet from the ground. When the mules moved, Mr. Parmer in trying to catch the lines fell to the ground, injuring himself severely. His right arm was broken and a hip almost dislocated. At first it was feared he was hurt beyond recovery, but a physician brought him round and it is believed he has suffered no permanent injury. His misfortune is regretted by his many friends.

Big Out Prices, now on Clothing, Cloaks, Overcoats, Sweaters and Underwear etc., at B. N. Brown's, Ironton, Mo.

The Ladies' Social Club was entertained, January 28th, by Mrs. Frank Mallin, who gave a very interesting reading on "The New Thought." A contest followed; Mrs. Fred Kindell, Sr., was awarded the prize. Delicious refreshments were served. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Jane Newman, February 11, 1913.

The situation at Graniteville seems to be much the same. It is said that the Synette people would have been glad to release the quarries at the price that has obtained for a number of years past; $4,000 per annum, but the Iron Mountain Company, owners of land, want to sell. There are about 1150 acres in the tract and the price asked is $87,000. A number of parties are said to be negotiating for it.

The snow which started to fall Sunday afternoon proved the biggest of the winter, so far. The snow continued to fall with more or less regularity until Monday afternoon, when the ground was covered to a depth of probably five inches. Monday night was cold, the thermometer registering 7 degrees below—the coldest night of the season, by ten degrees. Tuesday morning was biting cold, but the sun soon warmed up and the thaw was well under way by noon.

Since our last issue we're having winter, sure enough. Friday night the mercury took a plunge downward, and Saturday morning reminded us somewhat of the zero and below weather of last season. Sunday the wind turned and came from the south, the mercury rose a few degrees and snow followed in the night. Monday morning the earth's surface was an undulating and glistening white. Happy the family with a good roof overhead and a well-filled woodhouse at hand.

Walter Shular, who lives in the Whitworth store building in Arcadia, was awakened about two o'clock Sunday morning and detected smoke coming from an adjoining room. He opened the door and found the room in flames. By quick work he succeeded in extinguishing the fire, but not before considerable damage was done. The fire seemed to have originated in the floor, which was badly burned, and Mr. Shular is at a loss to account how the conflagration could have started there.

In last week's issue of the Democrat-News an account was given of the Jackson branch train turning over near Gordonville. On this train were Mrs. Sallie Bowles, grand lecturer of the Eastern Star, Miss Nellie Wear of this city and one other woman. The three women escaped injury but had to be taken out of the coach through the windows. They were taken to Jackson on an engine and each one was presented with a crisp $10 bill by the railroad company for the inconvenience they had been put to.—Fredricktown Democrat-News.

Blind Boone delighted a full house at the Academy of Music last Thursday night. I do not recall that I ever attended an entertainment quite so entertaining. Of course his piano numbers bore the burden of the evening, but they were interspersed with excellent vocal renditions, in solo and trio. Two instrumental numbers were especially remarkable in spirit and execution—"Il Trovatore" selections and Chopin's "Polonaise Militaire;" but every moment of the two hours was interesting and enjoyable. The weather outside was villainous, but all of us who had dared the discomfort of warring elements had full compensation.

COMMITTEE ON PROGRAM.

By reason of the falling off of the vote at the general election, the salaries of the county and circuit clerks and prosecuting attorney will be reduced. The salaries of these officials are based on the population of a county, the population being taken as five times the total vote cast at a general election. The statute provides that in all counties that have a population of less than fifteen thousand the county clerk and the circuit clerk shall each receive a yearly salary of $1,100, with $700 allowed as deputy hire. Formerly the salary was $1,250, with a deputy allowance of $600. The salary of the prosecuting attorney has been reduced from $600 to $500.—Greenview Journal.

Chas. Sumpter, a young married man, who lived about thirty-five miles west of Ironton, between Doyle and Bixby, met with a horrible death on the night of January 25th. Sumpter and his wife and child and two boarders had retired for the night. About ten o'clock they were awakened by the rooms filling with smoke. They made a hurried investigation and saw the roof was about to fall in. All made a rush for out doors but when they got out Sumpter missed his wife and went back into the burning building to look for her. He had no more than passed the threshold until the structure fell and he was buried under the burning timbers. Mrs. Sumpter had safely gotten out, but in the excitement of the moment her husband could not find her and went back to the building.

We have a letter from Mr. John B. Buckner, a former well known resident of Iron County. Mr. Buckner has just located near Westville, Oklahoma. He writes: "I have to ask you to change the address of my paper. Have moved from Fayetteville, Arkansas, to Westville, Oklahoma. Do not think you will have to change my address so often in the future as I have bought a home—a 55 acre farm near the beautiful town of Westville, which is certainly surrounded by a nice country, much like Bellevue Valley. Here I hope many numbers of the REGISTER will find me and that I may receive many letters from my old remembered and old-tried friends in Iron and Wayne counties." Mr. Buckner's friends in Iron county will join us in wishing him every success in his new home.

John S. Luthy, aged 77 years, died at his home in Pilot Knob, Thursday, January 30, 1913, after quite a prolonged illness. Mr. Luthy had long been a resident of Iron county, coming here in the year 1867, and locating at Ironton where he worked at his trade as a tailor for the late P. Crozat. Afterwards he was deputy postmaster of Ironton for a period of about four years, the late John V. Logan then being postmaster. In the early seventies Mr. Luthy removed to the west end of the county, where he lived until about ten years ago. He then came to Pilot Knob. The deceased was an upright man, a faithful friend and good citizen. He will long be mourned and missed by the friends and neighbors who have known him for nearly half a century. The funeral occurred Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the G. A. R., and the remains were interred in the K. P. cemetery. A widow and three children by a former marriage mourn his demise. May his rest be peaceful.

Last Monday morning a new factory steam whistle was heard in this city, proclaiming the birth of a new enterprise, and awakening the echoes of the once tuneful sounds of industry in the old Screen Door Factory. For the past few months T. J. St. Louis has been busy fixing up the old building, and installing a complete set of machinery for the manufacture of implement wood stock. This includes a complete saw mill, with boiler and trimmer saws. The object is to make all the parts that go into the building of wagons. They will also do custom sawing, which is a welcome feature, as many farmers want their logs sawed into lumber to improve their farm buildings, and also have cash market for their surplus timber. Mr. St. Louis has been fortunate in securing the co-operation of Edgar F. Kellogg, forming a partnership. The business will be incorporated under the firm name of "Ironton Wood-Stock Mfg. Co." They have secured a good stock of logs, besides a quantity of standing timber; will employ from twelve to fifteen men at the start, and increase the number of employees as the facilities for logging improve. Mr. St. Louis has been in the valley for over two years, and is favorably known. Mr. Kellogg has lately arrived from Wisconsin, and comes highly recommended. They are both energetic business men, and we can safely predict for them a successful business career.

Baptist Church.

Pastor Milford Riggs will be in the pulpit next Sunday, morning and evening.

Sunday School meets promptly at ten o'clock. Superintendent Steel is forming several new classes to meet the needs of his growing school.

Mr. L. D. Spencer and Mrs. Spencer were received into the membership of the church last Sunday by letter from the First Baptist church, of Trenton, Mo.

Mr. Geo. W. Brown, of St. Louis, deacon and clerk of the historic Fee Baptist church, worshipped with the church here last Sunday at morning and evening services.

All the ladies of the church meet at the home of Mrs. Riggs this week, two o'clock Thursday afternoon, for business and social purposes.

There were twenty-eight persons at Young People's meeting last Sunday evening. The meeting was ably led by Miss Lottie Prince.

"Christian Principles, and how to uphold them," is the subject for discussion at Young People's meeting, will be led by Miss Vesta London.

Through its Instruction Committee, the Young People's Union is forming a magazine club. The club is open to any one who will pay the annual fee of one dollar. Each member will have the use of all the periodicals taken, about twenty in number. Any one wishing to get on this list may see the committee which consists of Jacob Tims, Harry Rudy, Ralph Omohundro and Russell Riggs.

Cord Wood Wanted.

The undersigned will receive bids until 12 o'clock, noon, Wednesday, February 26, 1913, from parties wishing to furnish fifty cords of four foot wood for use at the Iron County Court House and Jail. The wood must be of best quality. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Wm. M. Blue, Sheriff.
Ironton, Mo., February 4, 1913.

Des Arc Items.

Jas. Poston, son of John Poston, Jr., died at the Roberts' School House. He was 28 years old, and his funeral was preached by Rev. Mitchal of Arkansas. He was buried in the Des Arc cemetery on Monday, Feb. 3d.

Judge L. L. Schmidt and wife went to St. Louis Sunday, to attend the funeral of his mother. She died Saturday night, February 1st. She was 79 years old.

Ray Stamp took his son, Howard, to St. Louis Sunday to have his eyes treated.

E. W. Graves and wife went to the City Sunday.

Mrs. Graham, mother of Mrs. J. H. Stevenson, is visiting at Des Arc.

Miss Edna Smith finished her school at Hogan and is now saleslady at R. H. Stevenson's store. She taught a very successful school at Hogan (so I am told), and will no doubt make a fine saleslady. She has a good word for everybody and that is what it takes to get along in this world.

Dr. Whitesides has moved into J. H. Stevenson's house, formerly used for the telephone office.

Dr. F. F. Farr left Sunday for the west.

Mr. Brown, of Eola, Mo., shipped a car of stock and hogs Saturday.

We received a letter from Mrs. Salsberry, of Los Angeles, California. She says they have the coldest winter they have known for 25 years. Ice formed on water sitting outside.

I was over on Wm. Stevenson's farm Saturday. He certainly has everything in fine shape around his two large barns. He has 19 horses, all housed nicely, and 70 head of cattle standing under sheds, and a separate shelter for about 20 young calves and yearlings. Also lots of fine hogs. He has the best kept farm in this end of the county. He owes the most of this improvement to his farm boys, Jeff Jackson, who served seven years in the same capacity for J. S. Benson, and is certainly the right man in the right place.

I attended our public school Friday evening. This is the best disciplined school in the State. I witnessed the going in and coming out, just like clock-work. The declamations and recitations by the school were simply fine. The debate, by two little boys, was fine. They stood by and talked like lawyers; their parents should be proud of these boys, and visit the school more often. Do you know it helps the boy or girl? It shows you have an interest in them; so parents, visit the school; you cannot spare the time it takes to better purpose.

I have had several letters from a distance asking about my war letter, and if certain ones that I knew were not with me. One was from Senator Rives' grandson, of Virginia. He was a lieutenant in the Albernarle artillery, and was killed at Cold Harbor, Virginia, along with our Captain and 36 men. My brother lost his eye in that battle.

I see the Blue and the Gray (soldiers) met at the Planters Hotel in St. Louis Saturday night to make arrangements for the big celebration that comes off at the Gettysburg battlefield, July 1st to 4th. Every soldier ought to go if he can spare the time and money. It will bring back some sad recollections of that great battle. It was fought in July, and there were lots of wheat shocks in the field. I felt like getting behind some of them. ISAAC.

Annapolis News.

Cloudy and some snow on the ground.
James Middleton came in Saturday and paid the costs in the case in the case of Middleton vs. L. F. Leland, No. 94,250.

The wife of Albert Benson, brother of John S. Benson, died near Chicago Sunday night. Mrs. Mathina Bolch went to St. Louis this morning so that her mother, Mrs. Benson, could go to Chicago to the funeral.

There was a drunken row in town Saturday night, and some beer bottles and rocks were thrown. One of the Kemp boys got a bruised head.

Ed Funk is in town to-day on business.

Nearly everybody is out of wood in this town and they will have to get their supply some place other than at the saw mills.

Miss Dean of Des Arc was here Saturday and Sunday.

Ed Loyd and Scott Loyd have bought a gasoline saw mill and are sawing switch ties.

Lou T. Webb has bought another horse with which to haul ties.

Robert and John Lewis will soon have there saw mill on Bear Branch in operation. Hope they will be successful.

A lot of booze fighters in town Sunday.

A bet was made here Saturday on horse shoeing. The blacksmith was to get one cent for the first nail driven and then double on every nail until two horses were shod. No man in Annapolis would be able to pay for the last nail. The loser snatched the money and left.

The Talley family got into a "rough house" among themselves and had a general shooting scrape, but no one hurt. The boys have been arrested and will be arraigned before Squire Kitchell Tuesday.

To Tie Makers.

We have opened a tie yard at the old screen factory building in Ironton with Mr. T. J. St. Louis in charge. Will continue to operate the yards at Arcadia and Pilot Knob. If you want the highest prices for your ties and receive a square deal deliver them at any of the three yards.

ABLES & TAUSIG,
Per H. M. Collins.

Dr. Milford Riggs has leased the Emerson Place for one year beginning the first of May. He will occupy the house as a residence and there open the Missouri Home for Aged Baptists. The place will serve very nicely as temporary quarters for the Home, but it is expected that in the near future a large, modern house will be built for the purpose.

Bellevue News.

Charley Edmonds, Jr., Huston C. Coll, and Lem Logan were business visitors in Ironton last Saturday.

Mrs. Bud Moyer visited her sister, Mrs. Sloan, in Graniteville last Thursday.

Mrs. Lee Moore and daughter, Miss Esme, were shopping in Ironton last Saturday.

Mrs. Gertrude Schmidt returned last Thursday from a visit to her brother, Dr. Chas. Fitzpatrick, at Lesterville.

Miss Grace McColl left last Sunday to visit friends and relatives in Leadwood.

Married—On the 19th of January, at the home of the bride's father, Miss Alberta French to Russell Queen—both of this place. We congratulate them both, and wish them a long and happy wedded life.

Wm King has recently purchased a saw mill and will soon have it in running order on a tract of land owned by Mr. King, a few miles west of town.

Mrs. J. Carty and little daughter, returned to their home in Murphyboro, Ill., last Thursday, after having spent a few weeks at the bedside of Mrs. Carty's mother-in-law, Mrs. Philip Carty.

Born—To Rev. and Mrs. Luther E. Sitton on the 28th of January, 1913, a fine boy-baby. All doing well.

The Directors of the Bellevue Valley Bank held a meeting last Saturday afternoon, and report the Bank in good shape and doing a fine business. It will be remembered the new Bank was only opened for business a month ago, and is, as yet, only in its infancy.

We are authorized to announce under the head of "Bellevue News," that there will be a Drama at the Hall next Saturday evening, February 8th, entitled "Cupids Capers," by home talent. At the close of the play, oysters soup will be served. Admission, 10 cents. We understand the proceeds will go toward buying a library. If his be true we think it the right step in the right direction. So let us give these young people a full house.

Mrs. Chas. B. Paulus left last Monday for a short visit with relatives in Greenville, where she expects, shortly, to be joined by her husband, thence they will go together to Fowltown, Texas, where they expect to make their future home. ALPHA.

The best bargains in Clothing and Shoes for the year 1913 are offered for our February Clearing Sale.

Goodwater News.

We are having some real winter weather at last.

While driving home from church last Sunday night, Olin Love's mare became frightened and ran away—throwing him severely against the ground, and cutting his head in several places. Dr. Henderson dressed his wounds, and he is getting along nicely.

Mr. Harrison Helm of Goodland and Miss Maude Hedrick of this place were married here last Sunday. Squire L. W. Scott, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fincher and Miss Grace Fincher, of Quaker, visited here last Wednesday.

Cerebro-Spinal-Meningitis.

MRS. B. W. LOOMIS.

Epidemic cerebro-spinal-meningitis is caused by a germ which may be found in the covering of the brain and the fluid which collects about these coverings. The germ enters the system through the nose, mouth, and possibly through the ears, and its way to the blood through which it is carried to all parts of the body and at last lodges about the membrane of the brain which seems to be the favorite place for development. During the course of the disease the secretions of the nose, mouth, and bronchi, or sputum, are infected with the germs.

The symptoms of the disease are numerous and varied. The most common symptoms are fever, tension of the muscles in the back of the neck; an inclination to for the head to be drawn backward (in severe cases even touching the back), dilation of the pupils of the eyes, slow heart-beat, and very important pains on drawing the legs up. The disease runs both an acute and chronic course and may be followed by some serious complications.

Epidemic cerebro-spinal-meningitis occurs in practically all parts of the United States and is characterized by a number of cases developing in a given district during a period of several months. The appearance of it is erratic. Sometimes several members of a family are affected successively or one case of the disease develops in a household. The epidemic gradually subsides.

The diagnosis of the disease especially early during the epidemic may be very difficult and requires a bacteriological examination of the fluid surrounding the spinal cord. In this stage of meningitis the quantity of this fluid is increased and contains the germ causing the disease. In these doubtful cases a needle should be introduced into the spinal canal and some of the fluid withdrawn and examined bacteriologically. By this means a certain diagnosis may be made.

When a diagnosis of cerebro-spinal-meningitis has been made the antitoxin should be immediately used. The antitoxin must be introduced into the spinal canal to be of service. To do this it is necessary to introduce a needle into the spinal canal, withdraw one or two ounces of the spinal fluid, and then inject into the spinal canal the antitoxin. The antitoxin should be used as often and in as large quantities as the individual case demands. If the antitoxin is used early in the course of the disease the results obtained are good; if its use is delayed, the results are poor. It may be said that the earlier antitoxin for any disease is used, the better the results.

Additional treatment should be given each case as indicated by the symptoms of that particular person.

The prevention of epidemic cerebro-spinal-meningitis depends upon the isolation of the patient, the disinfection of all excreta of the patient, of the clothing used by the patient and the attendant, the room and its furnishings, occupied by the patient. The extra may be disinfected with three to five per cent carbolic acid for one hour, care being taken to thoroughly mix the excreta with the disinfectant. The clothing may be disinfected by using five per cent carbolic acid or one to one thousand parts bichloride, or by boiling. The room and furniture may be kept clean disinfected by carbolic acid and after the patient's recovery, by formaldehyd and gas.

The disease is spread from patient to patient by means of the sputum. This should be safe-guarded and disinfected and a convalescent from meningitis should be especially careful to safe-guard spreading the disease through the sputum.

Dental Training.

Fifteen years from now if I have any teeth left for anybody to fool with I shall hire a certain Chinese boy to do the fooling," a New York salesman said. "He will be grown up then. I saw him the other day down in Chinatown. He was pulling pegs out of a board with his fingers. The pegs had been driven pretty right into holes in the board, and it took a good deal of strength to get them out."

"That is a funny game for him to play," I said to a white man who knows the quarter.

"Game!" said he. "
